

MD Exelon-Pepco Merger Community Hearings

Exelon Corporation is in the process of acquiring locally-based Pepco Holdings, Inc., including Pepco's Maryland operating companies Potomac Electric Power Company (Pepco), and Delmarva Power & Light Company (Delmarva Power). The MD Public Service Commission (PSC) must determine if the merger is in the public interest.

Why does the merger of Exelon and Pepco Holdings matter for affordable housing and community development?

Tens of millions of dollars for affordable housing are at stake. In order to show that the merger is in the public interest, Exelon is proposing to create a Customer Investment Fund (CIF). How these funds are to be used will be up to the MD PSC. The merger also presents an opportunity to highlight the importance of utility cooperation in helping multifamily owners establish accurate utility allowances.

You can help make sure that this merger will benefit low-income renters by supporting affordable housing at one of 5 community hearings to be held around the state. The MD PSC will hold several community hearings in January. These hearings are important opportunities for commissioners to learn about why improving the energy efficiency of affordable housing is in the public interest.

The hearings will be held at the following dates/locations:

- Tuesday, Jan. 6th, 2015 at 7 p.m. at the Kent County Public Library
- Wednesday, Jan. 7th, 2015 at 7 p.m. at Chesapeake College –Wye Mills Campus
